

RADIO MIX

Our favorite DJ Dee Jay never forgets a tune, but when it comes to remembering names, he's, well...hopeless. Yesterday's playlist included 24 popular bands of the past and present, and Dee managed to get every single band name wrong.

Loyal listeners love Dee's bloopers, and they always write 'em down. To figure out what bands were really played, pick a first word from among all the first words on the list below, then a middle word from the middles, then an end word from the ends. For example, "Amazing Rhythm Aces" comes from Amazing Live Pyros, Quicksilver Rhythm League, and 2 Non Aces. Process of elimination will get you everywhere, but if you run out of options, check the answers.
