

DRAGON DEFEAT

The center of this labyrinth contains the dread dragon Höttebreth, who has long guarded the vast treasure stored in his lair, much to the chagrin of the local villagers. Fortunately for them, you, valiant dragon-slayer, have come to their aid. Since Höttebreth is particularly fierce and you, alas, are but a novice at dragon-slaying, you'll need the help of the four magic swords placed strategically throughout the maze. The magic of each sword is so potent that the sword must always be approached from the hilt and not the point. To defeat Höttebreth, you must enter the maze from one of the three entrances, collect the four swords, and reach the dragon's central lair, all without retracing your path. Have you the cunning to claim the dragon's gold?
